

The following editorial adjustments have been made to previously published text:

1. PROPELLER sequence, k-space, compressed sensing have been extended.
2. The PROPELLER figure has been added.
3. Additional quantitative (numerical) results supporting the validity have been added. The Shepp Logan phantom objects have been tested.
4. The Experiment has been conducted for the real data objects as well phantom ones. Its results have been shown.
5. The comment about the size of the discussed image displacements has been added.
6. All the confusing notations in mathematical formulas have been fixed.
7. Section V has been moved to the introductory section.
8. The term coherence/incoherence have been explained.
9. The „convex program“ term has been explained.
10. RIP term is explained.
11. All the other confusing mathematical notations have been explained.
12. The editing errors spotted in the literature list have been removed.
13. All the figures have been enlarged and their compression ratio has been adjusted.